

In the past at UUCA, it has been the practice to allow scheduling of UUCA groups during the two worship services, based on the assumption that those attending a meeting during one service would be able to attend the other service. With the advent of a one-service Sunday morning schedule, it will be UUCA policy that no meetings may be scheduled during our one worship service. While this change may require some alteration of expectations of congregants, it is key to maintaining the centrality of our communal worship experience, especially in this time of change and transition.
